

I firmly believe that the integrity of our broadcast communications would be severely limited if station ownership is limited to only a few large cooperations. We must have individual and locally owned and operated broadcast companies to ensure a variety of opinions and communications options.